How to clear browser history to view the Culture Framework site perfectly

CF

As we develop the Culture Framework across the University our website will expand to meet our growing needs. Incremental improvements to the website allow us to bring the framework to life as we need it, but might also cause display issues on some browsers.

We want a website that works for everyone, even as we continue to build it. If you think our site is looking strange or responding unexpectedly, please follow the instructions below to clear your browser history. It usually takes 2 minutes to complete.
